Olive oil for the shampoo, say leading hair specialists. Olive oil for the shampoo, agree women who have learned the secret—who are admired for their lovely hair.

And this, specialists tell you, is why: Olive oil changes thoroughly soiled hair into the delicate gloss and sheen that means beauty.

It washes away all dirt and oil. Dissolves and removes clogging dandruff. It leaves hair fluffy and soft. But never dry, never dull. Fluffy and shimmering as new silk, instead.

Water Hiers, lobbied into the Paramount studio one morning on a case.

"What's the matter with you?" someone asked.

"Sprayed a filament in my leg, was the reply.

"How'd you do it?"

"Chasing ghosts!"

Certain scenes in "The Ghost Breaker," a new Paramount picture starring Wallace Reid, which will be shown at the Memorial Hall next Saturday, and in which Walter Hiers supplies much of the comedy business in his role of Rusty Snow, a colored valet, required that the comedian chase a crowd of armed figures down a hill side, brandishing his razor. While engaging in this chase, Walter stepped on a rock, turned his ankle, and was several days before he was able to put on the burnt cork.

DEMONSTRATE TAR SANDS

IRRIGATED DISTRICT

—o— SUCCESSFUL SEASON —o—

A demonstration of the practicability of the tar sands from McMurray, north of Edmonton, for sidewalks and road purposes, is being made at the Edmonton exhibition which is in progress the coming week. A sidewalk has been laid on the exhibition grounds comprising crushed gravel and the tar and just as it comes from the ground. The laying of the sidewalk was witnessed by city and provincial officials, and the experiment appeared very successful, it being possible to travel on the walk fifteen minutes after it had been laid. It is hoped that such experiments as these will demonstrate the value of the sands in road making.

During the season of 1922 and throughout of that year, the irrigated district, centering on Vauxhall, near Medicine Hat, shipped out a total of 153 cars of wheat, 44 cars of potatoes, 17 cars of hay, 31 cars of sheep, 8 cars of cattle, 5 cars of hogs and 6 cars of mixed feed. This district is comparatively new, having only been brought into operation during the past two or three years by the Canadian Land and Irrigation Co. The above shipments came from 10,000 acres which were in crop in the district last year, and is an indication of what is being accomplished on the irrigated land in Southern Alberta.

Telephone System
The company built a telephone system covering the Western Section to serve the construction forces. This system has been adapted for use of the operating staff by various changes and constitutes an essential service for them.

On December 21, 1922, the system included 161 miles of pole lines with about 5,625 poles in use. There were 220.5 miles of metallic circuit and 2 miles of single wire ground circuit.
There are 2 field switching stations, 22 field stations, 3 exchange switching stations and 24 exchange stations.

The Alberta Government
Telephone service has gradually been extended to cover pretty well all the towns and a large number of farm houses on the Western Section. The company has exchange service to all the Waterways Headquarters and all the Waterways and some Districts are supplied with Government phones which facilitates business with the water users.

Staff
The Western Section Operation and Maintenance Staff consists of about 65 employees, mostly staff from permanent, mostly with field forces during the outdoor working season, varying from 200 to 375 men. The organization chart shows the general line of authority and personnel of the staff for 1922.

Reservations and Buildings
The company has 50 reservations of land used in connection with the operation of the project and including 14,124 acres. At the various operation headquarters, buildings are provided for company employees, horses and equipment.

in the spring of 1911 and has been under operation since that date.

Canal Mileage
The system as a whole includes 1,722.3 miles of water channels, 15 in constructing the Western Section, over 10,000,000 cu. yards of material was excavated. The timber structures required about 9,000,000 ft. B.M. of timber.

Since 1910 a number of important structures have been built to replace old timber structures or to take care of new conditions that have made the work necessary as in the case of erecting natural channels.

Most of the original small timber structures on the Distributary Ditches have been replaced one and some of them twice, since the project was started. The maintenance staff. Many additional structures have been built in spillway channels and in the Distributary Ditches to add capacity and take up the slack in natural channels, etc.

Total Timber Structure on the Western Section was listed in 1922 and amounts to 11,119,262 ft. B.M. of timber and 88,723 linear feet of piling.
There was at that time 140 buildings, 107 culverts, 1971 feet of elevated timber, 74,322 feet of linear ground timber, 1991 small 2, 3 and 4-way gates, 119 buildings gates, 20 spillways and division gates, 473 bank gates, 29 combined headgates and drops, 868 drops from 1 to 4 ft. deep and 85 drops of from 5 to 15 feet depth.

Telephone System
The company built a telephone
system covering the Western Section
to serve the construction forces. This
system has been adapted for use of

for them.

2 miles of single wire ground circuit.
There are 2 field switching

switching stations and 24 exchange
stations.

The Alberta Government
Telephone service has gradually been
extended to cover pretty well all the
the Waterways Headquarters and all

water users.

Staff
The Western Section Operation and Maintenance Staff consists of about

varying from 200 to 375 men. The
